MADRID ABIERTO 2010

various locations, Madrid

4 Feb 2010 to 28 Feb 2010

In its first edition as a biennial event, MADRID ABIERTO aims to highlight the ways in which collaboration and cooperation may act as driving forces to instil change in the urban environment and to activate networks among citizens enabling a better comprehension of the dynamics in the city.

The artistic projects to be presented by ten selected artists will take place in various locations around the city, along with a radio broadcast of selected pieces in the sound art and audiovisual categories. All works will be presented by the artists in public encounters and debates at Casa Encendida in Madrid on the 4, 5 and 6 of February.

This sixth edition of MADRID ABIERTO, directed by Jorge Díez and curated by Cecilia Andersson, emphasizes the collaborative spirit of certain artistic practices carried out in public spaces. An array of different dynamics have been put to work in order to explore ways in which such practices can affect people and policies in specific locations. The projects count on the involvement by a wide range of professionals, among them gardeners, actors, social workers, geologists, programmers, architects and urban developers.

Selected from over 580 proposals presented to the international open call, this edition presents the following works: Time Notes, by Gustavo Romano (Buenos Aires, 1958), Torre, by Pablo Valbuena, (Madrid, 1978), Unofficial tourism, by Iñaki Larrimbe (Vitoria, 1967), Huert-O-bus, by Lisa Cheung (Hong Kong, 1969), Ghosttown, by Laurence Bonvin (Sierre, Switzerland, 1967), Una Casa Digestiva Para Lavapiés, by Josep-Maria Martín (Ceuta, 1961), Campo AA-Madrid, by Adaptive Actions, Hucha de deseos: ¡Todos somos un barrio, movilízate! by Susanne Bosch (Wesel, Germany, 1967), Bajar al subterráneo recién excavado, by Lara Almarcegui, (Zaragoza, 1972) and Vallecas Abierto: ¿Cómo nos van a ayudar con su arte?, by Teddy Cruz (Guatemala, 1962) with M7Red and Iago Carro (Buenos Aires, Argentina).

Additional is a presentation of the following sound art projects: Pay no attention to that man behind the curtain, by Sarah Boothroyd, Lavapiés Chipén. Memoria sonora de un barrio, by Manuel Calurano Ramos and Anna Raimondo, Insert the name of the city here by Yves Coussement, Bellabells, by Javier Díez-Ena, Obras, by Wade Matthews, Immatereality, by Annemarie Steinvooort, Memoirs of an amnesiac, by Matthew Verdon, Diario Sonoro, by Hernani Villaseñor Ramírez and Madrid Breathing, by Gloria Zein, to be broadcasted during the month of February in the program Libélula on RNE-Radio
